

New laws blamed

Juvenile crime on rise

ALBANY — Juvenile crime has dramatically increased in Albany, mostly due to new state laws that hinder parents' and public agencies' efforts to deal with delinquent behavior, according to Police Chief James Simmons.

Monday night accepted Simmons' annual report which summarized police activities and noted that juvenile cases rose from 641 in 1976 to 941 in 1977. Simmons blamed "sweeping changes" in the state's juvenile law, which makes it impossible to detain misbehaving youngsters, even if desired by the parents, unless criminal charges are pending. And there are a number of court decisions in the same vein, Simmons said.

"The result has been a state-wide explosion of juvenile miscreant behavior," he said. "These changes virtually eliminated parental ability to control juvenile behavior by cooperative effort with local police. The ability of cities and counties to enact ordinances and enforce existing laws involving juvenile miscreant behavior has been sharply curtailed."

"The juveniles now possess virtually all of the rights and privileges of adults without the corresponding behavioral restrictions," he said.

Simmons said "legislation correction" is being undertaken, but "... it is unlikely that juvenile behavior will ever be as legally restricted as before."

The largest increases in local juvenile crime were in the categories of burglary, drugs, auto theft and petty theft, according to the report.

Actually, there were 226 juvenile arrests during 1977, which is about 18 percent of the total for all ages, 1,220.

Simmons said there was also a large increase in the number of all misdemeanor arrests, from 691 in 1976 to 890 in 1977.

This is due largely to the LIONS NAME A WINNER — Karen Seegmiller (left) receives trophy from Club President Elliott Jones, and a certificate from Speech Contest Chairman Charles McLain after being named top speaker in the Lions' speakers' contest Thursday evening. Her subject was "Energy, Today's Crisis and Tomorrow's Dilemma." Karen will represent the Albany Club in the Zone contest to be held at the Albany Senior Center on March 13. The six-level competition culminates in the District Four (California-Nevada) match to be held June 3 at Konnocti Harbor, Ca. Winner of the final match will receive a $4,500 scholarship, according to Chairman McLain.

Albany Rotarians pay tribute to trio

Three Albany Rotarians have been named recipients of Paul Harris Foundation thousand-dollar awards, "for long and outstanding service in Rotary." Presenting the awards at a recent session of the club was the Governor of District 516, Bud Hauser (left), shown above as he handed certificates to Harold Olson, Hal Denham and Cecil Lavers.

Lavers is the only active member of the Albany Rotary Club which he helped organize in 1929. Lavers also was instrumental in formation of the El Cerrito Club in 1948, and as city attorney, wrote the original Albany City Charter. Denham, who has completed 31 years of perfect attendance, served as the club's Silver Anniversary president in 1953, and for the past 22 years has introduced visiting Rotarians. At present he is serving as co-chairman of community service. Olson was the club's 35th president and inaugurated the annual Valentine Day party.

Griffin vote-count appeal rejected

ALBANY — Patrick Griffin's appeal of a lower court ruling invalidating the votes he received in the Feb. 14 election, has been rejected by the California Superior Court. Griffin's name was among those of nine candidates listed on the special election ballot to fill the two vacancies created by the November recall election which ousted Griffin and Michael R. Gleason.

The Griffin votes were not tabulated on election night, in compliance with an order issued by the California Court of Appeal, barring the tabulation on the grounds that a recalled official may not succeed himself. The Supreme Court confirmed the ruling

Feb. 23. Newly-elected council members Louis George, a businessman, and William Lewis Sr., a federal employee, were sworn in on Feb. 22 by City Clerk Patricia Dempster.

The councilmen-elect were congratulated by Mayor Joyce Jackson. "It is good to have a full council again," Mayor Jackson assured Lewis and George, both of whom were endorsed by the Recall Committee which narrowly missed unseating the mayor in the recall balloting.

An official canvass of the ballots, showing Lewis and George the runaway winners in the Valentine Day election with nearly 1,800 votes each, was approved by the council. Ray Bietz received 594 votes, Clayton Berling 637, and Andrew Heffernon 686.

Heffernon and Robert Good announced recently that they were withdrawing their candidacies in the regular April election in favor of Bietz and Berling, both of whom are considered more liberal in political policy

'Liberal alternative' emerges in Albany

By NORMAN COLBY

ALBANY — The two most visible liberal candidates in the April 11 City Council race are discarding the non-aligned stances maintained by them throughout their unsuccessful February campaigns.

Clay Berling, an insurance agent, and attorney Ray Bietz, plan to present a viable alternative to the two recently elected council members (Louis George and William Lewis Sr.) who will be up for re-election," they announced this week.

Berling and Bietz, who placed fourth and fifth, respectively, in the February balloting, said they will conduct a joint campaign, "...because our positions on the issues facing Albany voters are very similar."

During the February campaign, both candidates avoided association with any contending groups within the city.

They said their opposition to the recall of ousted Councilmen Mike Gleason and Pat Griffin was based upon procedural objections

Hearings set on city's land plans

ALBANY — The crucial test is approaching for several important changes in Albany's land plans, including the long-awaited revisions of the city's zoning ordinances.

The Albany City Council Monday night set April 26 for the first council public hearing on the changes. More than one hearing may be needed.

The Planning and Zoning Commission is currently completing its work sessions and will hold its first public hearing March 21, with perhaps four or five public sessions needed.

The ordinance revisions, once adopted, will eliminate differences between the ordinances and the general plan which have been confusing for staff and developers.

In other actions, council: — Called for a staff report on difficulties relating to installation of the "911" emergency telephone number system, with the police department receiving calls and referring some to the fire department.

— Expressed concern about the proposed Jarvis-Gann tax rate reduction initiative and indicated that an official stand will be taken soon.

— Was told by Neil Havlik that a half acre on Albany hill that the city hoped to obtain from Gateway developers for open space has been conveyed by court decree to a private firm, endangering the possibility of city acquisition.

— Decided to seek outside bids before acting on staff recommendations favoring entering into a contract with Optimum Systems, Inc., of Santa Clara for computer services, costing about $18,000 per year. City Administrator William Haden opposed any acquisition of a new computer system replacing the present unit.

— Decided to obtain unemployment insurance for employees.

increased traffic citations and arrests resulting from the hiring of a traffic officer.

The total number of all arrests also went up, from 1,010 to 1,220.

Of the total, there were 944 non-residents and 276 residents, meaning that Albany continues as a "victim community" with most of its law breakers coming from other areas.

During 1977, there were no murders, although there was one homicide arrest, that of Joseph Otto Egenberger for the 1963 murder of Judy Williamson. The case is pending in the courts.

The city also experienced two kidnaps, five rapes and two attempted rapes, with most of these cleared by arrest.

Robberies decreased from 51 in 1976 to 40 in 1977. The number of burglaries, petty and grand thefts are higher. Clearance by arrest statistics are generally higher than the national average.

Investment

If you like to taste chicken or turkey while it's roasting, you'll find a bulb baster is a good investment.

CHECKING SIGNALS — Members of Traffic and Safety Commission make a site inspection at the intersection of Brighton and San Pablo where traffic lights are being installed. The area "has been a pedestrian and vehicle hazard for some time", according to commissioners (from left) Kathy Beals, Police Chief James R. Simmons, Commission Chairman John Dempster, John Storrs and Tom Provost.

than George and Lewis. Gleason said he would support Bietz and Berling in their bid against George Lewis and Dr. Michael Sonleitner to fill the two regular council vacancies (Gleason's and Griffin's).

In their first acts as new members of the city council, George and Lewis made several appointments to city boards and commissions. George named Dr. Arthur Doss to the Commission on Aging, and Verderer Chester to the Civil Service Commission. He reappointed Samuel Dows to the Planning and Zoning Commission, John Storrs to the Traffic and Safety Commission, and John Demster to the Park and Recreation Commission.

Lewis appointed Bill Chambers to planning and zoning, Lucille Howe to traffic and safety, Clare You to the Housing and Community Development Commission, and Neil Havlik to the Waterfront Committee.

Hometown news

Anyone who thinks opportunity knocks only once hasn't heard of "Luoma Luck." At the Luoma citadel it raps tentatively, hangs around for six days waiting for someone to open up and, if no one appears, knocks a second time.

Fern Luoma heard the first rap on the morning of election day — February 14. She drew ballot 31, decided there was something lucky about the number and decided to play a 3-1 Exacta at Golden Gate Fields. But an appointment with her hairdresser intervened and, unable to find anyone to place the bet for her, she swept aside the hunch to get her hair curled.

Winners of the third Exacta, that day, were 3 and 1, so Fern got her hair curled a second time the hard way.

But opportunity was working with bare-knuckled abandon. "Curly" went to the track last Monday, sat through six races, and picked six winners. Lucky Luoma still is talking about that one. But it left the horses speechless.

Flapjack fanciers are invited to the "Nineteenth Annual Ham and Pancake Breakfast," March 12, sponsored by the American Field Service's Albany Chapter. Funds raised by the fete will be used to finance the AFS student exchange program.

The breakfast will be served in the Cornell School cafeteria from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Tickets are $1.50 per person, and children under six are "fed free," according to co-chairmen Thayne and Renee Neilson.

Current and past AFS Americans Abroad and foreign exchange students will address the breakfast guests. Jenny Trapp, recently returned from a year in Tasmania, will head the list of speakers.

An adult version of the old show-and-tell game gave Soroptimists something to talk about last week. Under the direction of Ellen Zapata, the audience-participation gimmick produced more memorabilia than a Victorian attic, and touched off reminiscing that a school yearbook couldn't equal.

Among the heirlooms displayed was a "Children of All Nations" quilt made by Dorothy Sooter's mother-in-law. Some 40 authentically costumed children were pictured on the cover. Another quilt, made during the Revolutionary War era, was exhibited by Geraldine Hollick.

Bringing history a little closer to home, May Ellis Olson showed stereo pictures of the shambles that was San Francisco after the earthquake of 1906.

Among the foreign entries was a painting, Bette Rhodes' husband bought in Lucerna, Rhodes, who found the picture hanging on restaurant wall, discovered, after buying it from the proprietor, that it bore the date "1939" on the back of the canvas.

Jewel Okawachi displayed a painting her son had brought from Japan, and a picture of Jewel and her mother taken nearly 50 years ago.

Among the more romantic items was a bracelet that had been the gift presented by Stephanie Fallcreek's great-grandfather to his bride on their wedding day; and the wedding dress worn by Chris Kantaris' great aunt.

The unusual was well-represented, too. Yvonne Walkup brought forth an antique clock equipped with an unique alarm which chimed out "Yankee Doodle Dandy," and probably inspired a lot of more unique epithets from startled sleepers.

A necklace with gold figures depicting St. George's dispute with the dragon was passed around by Betty Lott. "Mother bought it in Florence and wore it everywhere," Betty confided, "and my sister and I cut our teeth on it."

Which probably put more scars on George than did the dragon.

Chairman Zapata refuted the old adage, "Money is the root of all evil," by displaying tiny Swedish coin, circa 1890, which has the Lord's Prayer engraved on it.

But Sally Nelson probably lifted the most eyebrows. She wore a wool knit dress that she had bought 30 years ago.

"And that dress still fits beautifully," Ellen marveled.

LIBERAL ALTERNATIVE EMERGES

to the proximity of the February and April elections, not for reasons of political philosophy.

However, the poor showing of all the losing candidates in the February contest led to re-evaluation by all the candidates who are also candidates in April.

Liberal candidates Andrew Heffernon, third-ranked in February, and Robert Good, ranked sixth, withdrew from the April race, although their names will appear on the ballots.

Both Heffernon and Good threw their support to Berling and Bietz.

Heffernon said, "...It is clear that an active campaign by all four of these candidates would not be successful for any one of them."

Next, Berling and Bietz joined forces, dropping their bi-partisan approach, deciding to follow a new policy of seeking issues and stating their views, hoping that this will create support.

An example of the new approach is Berling and Bietz' concurrences with Heffernon in opposing high-density development and favoring open space and low-density develop-

Berling and Bietz are claiming they represent a "larger and broader portion of the Albany voters" than the newly-elected councilmen, George and Lewis, who were backed by the Albany Recall Committee.

George and Lewis, considered to be more conservative politicians, each polled nearly three times as many votes as the next high-highest contender, Heffernon, in the February election, in which there was a surplus of liberal candidates.

The April 11 election, with two openings created by the end of both Gleason and Griffin's regular terms, actually had five candidates — George, Lewis, Berling, Bietz and Dr. Michael Sonleitner.

Two of the February candidates did not file for the April race and are out of the picture. Sonleitner did not run in February, so he is the newest face in the current Albany political picture.

An optometrist, Sonleitner has not been involved in recent Albany controversies but does say he prefers low-density to high-density development.

Editor:
Dear Sir:
No value accrues to the noncommunist countries nor to freedom anywhere from the proposed treaties to transfer U.S. ownership and control over our interoceanic Canal and its provisions of these treaties repeatedly insult the U.S. and the rest of the non-communist world. They benefit only the Torrijos — Castro — U.S.S.R. axis and those short-sighted and greedy financiers who have built up the tyrant Torrijos with unwarranted loans.
Much has been said about, "How would we feel if our country were divided by a strip of land separating it into two parts?" Had it not been for supreme engineering and the persistent campaign of Dr. Gorgas (despite severe ridicule by bureaucrats) to control mosquitos and thereby mosquito-borne yellow fever and malaria, our interoceanic Canal would not have been accomplished. Because of U.S. ingenuity, the most valuable development experienced by that part of the world became a reality, enabling Panamanians to have the highest per capita income in all Central America. To induce the U.S. to choose their site rather than Nicaragua, Panama sold sovereignty rights of the Zone to the U.S. before construction was begun by the U.S.

For years the United States has been divided into two geographical parts by the Dominion Canada. There is no disgrace to such an arrangement, and for those individuals decrying a division of Panama by the U.S. Canal and its Zone, the contention reveals faulty reasoning if not inept cerebration.
Every Congressman voting for these fraudulent treaties (generated by some of the world's most blatant anti-humanity campaign, delivered forces) should be removed at the ballot box at the earliest possible date!

Sincerely,
DR. JOHN HARTFORD

Editor:
Dear Sir:
I offer my sincere appreciation to everyone who voted for me in the special election Feb. 14. I will do my utmost as Albany City Councilman to justify your confidence.
Special thanks to those who had parties to introduce me to their friends, some of the world's most contributed to my blatant anti-humanity campaign, delivered brochures, talked to their neighbors and put my posters in their windows. I hope you will put them back if you've taken them out. We're now in the campaign for the election April 11.

Finally, I thank my family for their support and patience.
BILL LEWIS

people, the 64.3 percent of eligible voters in Albany.
Here's a city, so special, that we are envied by people who live in surrounding cities. No matter with whom you're speaking, when you say you live in Albany, they remark "that's such a lovely town."
A lovely town is right. And what makes it lovely is the people living here, the small friendly shops, the fantastic police and fire departments — all of us. And when there's an election to put people in office that will help keep Albany the greatest place to live, instead of inheriting the troubles of an adjoining city, we don't do anything. We sit back, look out the window feeling safe and content (because we live in Albany), never thinking about tomorrow.

This 64.3 percent — you don't have to go out every night attending meetings or joining clubs trying to better Albany. All you have to do is make yourself aware of what's going on. Read the paper, talk to friends and neighbors — one will have to say "Albany? Yes it used to be such a nice town." On April 11th, we again will have the chance to put in years to come some one

Mary Hardy, candidate for re-election to the District One Board of Education (representing Albany, Oakland, Berkeley, Emeryville and Piedmont), will address the Alameda County Democratic Women's Study Club at its noon luncheon session March 8. The meeting will be held at Tom Lovely's Buffet, 336 Grande Ave., Oakland.

"All interested persons are cordially invited to attend," Mellie Nolan, chairman of the study club, said yesterday. "The spring membership drive now is in progress, and at each meeting the club will present a candidate who will discuss the issues."

Course in painting

ALBANY — The Albany Senior Center announces today a new class in watercolor painting.

Carmen Lax, of the Alameda County Neighborhood Arts Program, will lead a group of enthusiasts in rendering wildlife from color photos and slides. A specialist in paintings of animals, Carmen has exhibited at galleries in the Bay Area and at Kennedy Center in Washington.

The class is scheduled to meet at 9:30 a.m. on Tuesdays starting March 7 at the Senior Center, 846 Masonic Ave., Albany. He will continue until June. Registration is free to all seniors.

Pianist Elinor Martin in recital

OAKLAND — Elinor Martin, pianist, will perform in a solo recital to be given Sunday afternoon at four. The concert is being given in Trinity Lutheran Church, and is free to the public.

The hour-long program features the French Suite No. 5 in G Major by J. S. Bach, Sonata in B flat Major by Mozart, Intermezzo (Op. 116, no. 6) and Capriccio (Op. 116, no. 3) by Brahms, Three Rondos by Bartok, and Pour Le Piano by Debussy.

AND THE WINNER IS — Mary Costa (center) of El Cerrito, held the winning stub in the drawing for a Zenith color television set that was offered as the first prize in the Albany Day at the Races program at Golden Gate Fields. With Mrs. Costa as she accepted the prize this week were Hal Denham, (left) of the Albany Chamber of Commerce and Ed Elliott, C of C. president. The drawing was sponsored jointly by the Chamber and Supreme TV Store.

TODAY — Adult classes throughout the day (call us for details if you haven't heard about them). The main course for the 4 o'clock dinner tonight is veal parmigiana — be sure to reserve well ahead, as there's a full house almost every night (and a new caterer is providing the meals).

THURSDAY — The bingo game starts at 10:30 this morning, topped off with community singing at 11:30. Along with a bag lunch, there will be the monthly business meeting at noon. Dinner will feature cube steak with mushroom sauce, and Paul Rider, local senior poet, will read from his works afterwards. FRIDAY — Art class continues at 10, and the bridge party gets under way at 12:30 (a good chance to practice your card skills!). Filet of fish for dinner, then a talk by Mr. Pedersen on intermediate care facilities.

SATURDAY — A busy day at the Center! Cultures and Countries class at 9:30, while the stitchery group meets in the library. Bingo at 11:45, followed by a bag lunch. Dancing from 2 to 5, where you can join in doing those energetic steps from past and present. Dancing again at 8 — the "Senior Prom" every Saturday night, with live music and refreshments — admission $1.50 at the door. Plan to come to some of these weekly dances — everyone reports that they're fun!

SUNDAY — Drop in during the afternoon for quiet activities, such as cards and chatting along with some coffee or tea. You can work on your dance steps next door with Jean from 2 to 4.

MONDAY — Creative writing at 9 with Marcy — an enjoyable way to expand your writing skills. Bag lunch, then Ogleby at 12:30 (you might be a winner this time!) Roast beef is on the menu tonight.

TUESDAY — The needlecraft group meets at 10. SPECIAL NOTE: a new class in painting animals in watercolor will start this morning at 9:30. It will be led by Carmen Lax, who has exhibited widely in this style of art, including the Kennedy Center in Washington D.C. Registration is free — take advantage of this interesting opportunity! Classes are scheduled to continue weekly through May. The dinner stars lasagna with meat sauce, and soprano Pearl Wolf will entertain later.

Laurie Eadie (formerly Laurie Altman of the Center Staff) is available by appointment for counseling in paralegal, Medicare, consumer and associated problems. Call or drop in to the Center to make arrangements to have her help you.

Upcoming trips include the North Shore Tahoe overnight leaving March 5 at 8 a.m. — Call the Center to see if there have been any cancellations. We are also taking signups for the April 11 Oakland tour, taking in the Knowland Park Zoo, the Museum, and Jack London Village for no-host lunch — reservations at about $5.

Club news of Albany area

ALBANY ROTARY CLUB
 Rotary President Dick Jones reminded members today that the organization's district conference will be held at the Woodlake Inn in Sacramento from March 17 to 19. The Albany Club's annual party will be staged at the Treasure Island Officers' Club on May 13. Also on the calendar is "Rotary Day at the Races" on March 30.

ALBANY LIONS CLUB
 Lion Alan Caruso this week was named recipient of the Lions "Key Membership Award" — one of a dozen members so designated since the club's formation more than three decades ago.

"The honor is given to those who enrich Lions Clubs by bringing in new members," J. Henry Kruse, editor of the club's weekly "Lampoon," said yesterday.

Alan received the award from club president Elliott Jones. During Lion Alan's tenure as president he made increasing membership a primary goal.

Jones said, "The club has gained membership and the momentum has continued into this year. We offer our most sincere congratulations to Lion Alan Caruso."

FINNISH-AMERICAN HOME ASSOCIATION
 Ladies of the Finnish-American Home Association will conduct a rummage sale Saturday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Finnish Brotherhood Hall, 1970 Chestnut St., Berkeley.

"There will be good, clean clothing, useable household items, plants, and a miscellaneous array of goods offered," a club spokesman said, "and the coffee bar will be open all day."

The ladies are raising money for the retirement home being planned on the site of the El Verano Inn, north of Sonoma.

ALBANY CHAPTER 550 ORDER OF EASTERN STAR
 Albany Chapter 550 E.S. will hold a stated meeting Friday at 8 p.m. Albany Temple, 533 San Pablo Ave. Albany.

Norma Farquhar, worthy Matron and Donald Worthy Patron will preside. "All members are welcome."

ORDER OF EAGLES
 MAY VIEW AERIE 2323 "A Night for Noble Men," state trustee, and tribute to all California State Officers, will be staged by the Local Aerie Saturday evening.

A steak barbecue will precede the formal ceremonies, and "there will be dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. to the music of the Billy Mae Jackson orchestra, according to a club spokesman."

CERRITO-ALBANY CHAPTER
 ORDER OF DEMOLAY Christmas tree sales in December netted the local club $514, according to a report published in "The Shrinker" — official publication of the organization.

SEQUOIA PARLOR
 No. 272, N.D.G.W. Sequoia Parlor No. 272, Native Daughters of the Golden West had an official visit with Aloha No. 166 and Argonaut No. 166 on Wednesday evening in the Veterans Memorial Building, 4321 Salem St., Emeryville Ca. Dolores Ferenz Grand President was honored. Refreshments were served.

BERKELEY YMCA
 The Berkeley YMCA now is accepting registrations for its Easter vacation outdoor education camp, Easter Camp to Observe, or ECO Camp.

ECO Camp is for campers in the fourth through eighth grades, and it is held at the Berkeley YMCA campground in northern Sonoma County Camp Gualala.

The dates of the program are March 19 to 25. "This is a wonderful time to study the plants and animals of the coastal redwood region; the ground is still moist and everything is coming alive after the long winter," a 'Y' spokesman said.

"The ECO Camp staff consists of older high school and college age persons as well as a fine group of naturalists who specialize in the areas of birds and mammals, amphibians and reptiles, plants and trees, and marine biology."

"At camp the mornings are spent in small hike groups — with the naturalists, and the afternoons are spent involved in several camp activities — outdoor skills, arts and crafts, field games, and many more."

For a brochure readers may write or call Russ Hayward at the Berkeley YMCA. The number is 848-6800.

ALBANY CHAPTER 2618, A.A.R.P.
 The Chinese celebration tour to San Francisco on March 19, being conducted by Albany Chapter 2618, American Association of Retired Persons, has 10 seats available at $12.50 per person. Tour leaves from El Cerrito Plaza, Pole K-9, at 10 a.m., with return at 5 p.m. There will be an hour for shopping, then lunch at a Chinese restaurant, followed by a play "Golden Peony."

All Albany Chapter 2618 tours will henceforth be covered by accident insurance, at a nominal cost, according to Isabelle Betten, chapter president. An additional sum of only 30 cents will insure one of medical coverage in case of accident, and of an accidental death payment of $1000.

Reservations for the tour should be made promptly with Mrs. Betten, 526-8675.

BERKELEY DEMOCRATIC CLUB
 The Berkeley Democratic Club will hold a general membership meeting at 7:30 this evening in the West Berkeley Library at 1125 University Ave. There will be a short business meeting from 7:30 to 8:00.

A steak barbecue will precede the formal ceremonies, and "there will be dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. to the music of the Billy Mae Jackson orchestra, according to a club spokesman."

 A meeting of Court Berkeley No. 1040, Catholic Daughters of America, will be held on Sunday at 1 p.m. at St. Jerome's Church Hall, Curry and Carmel, El Cerrito. Anna Marie Mikesell, regent, will preside.

Regent will report on the Salad Bar Luncheon recently held at St. Jerome's Church Hall. All Courts in the Oakland Diocese participated and proceeds were to be presented to the Seminarian Burse.

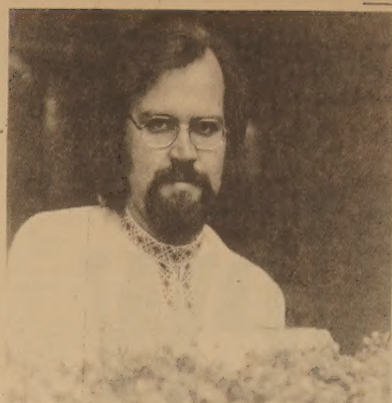

Court Berkeley will join with the other Courts in the Oakland Diocese for the reception of new members to be held at St. Bede's Church, 26950 Patrick Ave., Hayward; March 12 at 1 p.m. Court Berkeley will have two candidates.

WOMEN'S AMERICAN ORT
 TILDEN CHAPTER
 Tilden Chapter of Women's American ORT will stage its sixth annual auction, Saturday, at 7:30 p.m., at the El Cerrito Community Center. Items to be auctioned include gift certificates and merchandise from East Bay merchants, dinners for two at Bay Area restaurants, an oil painting by Cucaro, vacations at resorts in the wine country and Sun River, Oregon, accommodations at the Cliff Hotel in San Francisco, and antiques.

The auction raises funds to assist in supporting the global program of ORT. Operating in 30 countries, ORT is the world's largest non-governmental vocational training agency. Over 80,000 students are learning modern day skills which their countries need in order to compete in the technological world.

CORNELL SCHOOL PTA
 Cornell School PTA will host Chris Bowen, physical education instructor, as the speaker for a coffee hour on Thursday. He will discuss the program at Cornell and "will field any questions afterwards."

OPENING MEDICAL OFFICE — Dr. Howard Ballinger, a graduate of the University of California's College of Medicine at Irvine, is opening an office on Albany Square on San Pablo Ave. The general practitioner "sees a change going on in the way people deal with their health . . . Nowadays patients want to be well informed and take an active part in solving their health problems . . . they respect nature's powers of healing and are interested in preventive medicine. All of this makes for an ideal setting for good medical practice." Dr. Ballinger had a practice in Porterville, before moving to Albany.

India cuisine is scheduled
 ALBANY — The Albany Park & Recreation Department announce today a new "India Cuisine Cooking Class" to be held at Memorial Park Clubhouse, 1375 Portland Ave., starting March 14 and extending through May 16. The 10 classes are scheduled from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. on Tuesdays.

The instructor, Mymona Kareem is a native of India and a qualified teacher in cooking native foods. The course will include all ingredients for cooking. The fee is $15 and the class limit 12 people.

SAN FRANCISCO — Handel's Oratorio "Israel in Egypt" will be performed by the combined choirs of the San Francisco Civic Chorale and the Winifred Baker Chorale on Sunday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, in Temple Emanuel-El, Lake and Arguello streets. Music will be furnished by the San Francisco Chamber Orchestra, Edgar Braun, director. Winifred Baker, director of both chorale groups, will conduct.

Albany Bowl

Sasaki bowls 232-217-267

By PHIL ALSTON

Dan Sasaki topped all scorers at Albany Bowl last week by giving the Nisei Scratch League its first 700 series of the season with 716 on games of 232-217-267.

Closest to Sasaki among the heavy hitting Nisei were Tom Kaya with 257-645, Ed Yokayama 638, Ron Ashida 617 and Jim Ding 615.

In the 905 Majors Full House and Golden Gate Fields matched stride for stride in their race for second half honors, Full House retaining its 3 1/2 point advantage.

The leaders tripped 0 & R Vending 16 to 9 and Golden Gate Fields administered a similar dose to Associated Coin Amusements in a match that featured a 641 series by Les Riedlinger of the Trackmen and 625 by the Coins' Steve Brewer.

Best individual performance in the Majors' was Dave Rubin's 673, which served as a springboard for Diablo Bowling Sup-

Alvin Ailey dance program at UC

BERKELEY — The Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater, now celebrating the twentieth year of its existence, is scheduled to perform in U.C. Berkeley's Zellerbach Auditorium on March 16, 17, 18 and 19. This, the company's seventh return engagement, is again presented under the auspices of the University's Committee for Arts and Lectures. Four 8 p.m. performances will be given, as well as two 2 p.m. matinees on March 18 and 19.

ply's 17-8 decision over Nevada Tahoe Tours. The win moved Diablo from fifth to third place in the standings.

In other matches J. D.'s Raiders upset Solano Club 16-9 and Team Six shoved Acme Printing Ink deeper into the basement 22 to 3.

Chris Azcona had his best game and series of the season, 209 and 591, in the Tuesday Mixed, and Mike Shingu also hit a personal high with 637 for Albany Travelers.

Lyndria Chase made a felicitous debut in the Majorettes League by hammering out a 608 series. Connie Hill had 573.

John Seith gave the Junior Klassic loop another big set by hitting 216-222-202 for 640.

Rogue Layson needed one game to find the range in the Graphic Arts circuit, but once he got his radar equipment operational, he fired 258 and 223 for 653 series.

Other league leaders included John Berg with 609 in the Commercial, Ross Ray 212-585 for Sons in Retirement, Earl Mohrbacher 590 in the Volney Morrison Memorial and Don Harrington 577 in the Green Lantern.

Local keggers did well in the recently concluded Alameda County Men's Bowling Association tournament, for which Albany Bowl hosted the doubles and singles events.

In the team event Albany :7, spiced by Kent Ochs' 625 and John Cassidy's 257-608, placed third with 2797-558-3355.

Fred and Ralph Butler had 1352 for second place in the doubles, while Bat Blaylock and Bob Gherlone were third at 1343. Marv Siegfried-Scotty Cassell fifth with 1326.

Free course in Yoga will start Friday

ALBANY — The Albany Park and Recreation Department today reminded local residents of the new Introductory Yoga Course, given free at the Albany Community Center, 1123 8th St., starting Friday and extending through April 21, 1978.

The eight-week Yoga session will consist of practice of basic asanas and poses, relaxation and meditation exercises and group chanting. Approximately two hour duration with a ten minute break after the first hour, classes will be held once weekly from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Class limit will be twenty five people. The instructor is Ann Godwin.

Registrations will be accepted at the Albany Community Center, 1123 8th St. Readers may call 526-9555 for further information.

Continue painting and drawing classes

ALBANY — The Albany Park and Recreation Department announces a new continue painting and drawing class to be held at Memorial Park Clubhouse on Tuesdays, two hour class from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, and a second class 12 to 2 p.m. starting March 7, 1978, and running through April 25.

The classes are for young artists, stressing the basic approaches to drawing and painting. Basic geometric shapes in terms of light, shadow and perspective will be stressed and applied to still lifes, landscapes and the figure.

Class fee is $5 for the eight week session. Materials are extra. Students may register at the Park & Recreation Department, 1000 San Pablo Ave.

State changes fishing rules

SACRAMENTO — Beginning today, the 12-inch minimum length for black bass will apply to 13 additional California lakes and reservoirs, anglers will have more night fishing opportunities, trout limits will change on a few waters and there will be tighter restrictions on the take of white seabass.

These changes in sport fishing regulations are among a few dozen adopted by the state Fish and Game Commission last December and taking effect on the first day of the new month.

Minimum length restrictions for some black bass now in effect at nine other lakes will be extended to all black bass species, and on three other waters the minimum length currently applies to all black bass species.

Added to the list of waters open to night fishing for all species will be Lake Amador in Amador County and Wildwood Lake, Nevada County. The night fishing area for all species except trout and salmon on the Russian River will be extended from Duncan Mills downstream to the Highway 1 bridge at Bridgehaven, Sonoma County.

The trout limit will drop from 10 to five fish in the Mokelumne River from the Highway 99 bridge to Camanche Dam, San Joaquin County, and from 10 to two fish on sections of the north fork of the Feather River and the east branch of the river's north fork. In Merle Collins Lake, Yuba County, the trout limit will go from three to five fish.

Sport anglers will be limited to three white seabass per angler day instead of the current 10 fish, and the tolerance of one undersized white seabass will be dropped.

There will be no fishing during the 1978 season in Martis Lake, Nevada and Placer counties, in a move designed to protect a population of Lahontan cutthroat trout.

Other changes in regulations will: —Close the Klamath River from the mouth of the Trinity River to Ishi Pishi Falls to sturgeon from April 1 through July 15.

—Prohibit the use of hooks with more than one point on the Mad River and its tributaries in Humboldt County between Sept. 1 and Dec. 31.

—Outlaw taking or possessing any trout more than 15 inches long in the middle fork of the Eel River above Bar Creek, Mendocino County.

—Close the Trinity River to trout fishing from March 1 through May 26.

—Open the Sacramento River and its tributaries upstream from the Interstate 5 bridge in Dunsuir to trout fishing on April 29 rather than a month later.

—Establish a daily bag and possession weight limit of 50 pounds in the shell for freshwater clams in the Valley and Delta fishing districts.

—Lift the closure on chumming with live bait in the area between San Pedro Point, San Mateo County, and Point Lobos, San Francisco County.

Rules for California's 2.3 million-plus sport fishermen are contained in regulations booklets for 1978 now available at most places where fishing licenses are sold.

Game warden arrests Monterey pig stickers

SALINAS — A contingent of game thieves from Bakersfield have adopted a new weapon in their attempts to outwit California Fish and Game Wardens.

Warden Ray Azbill of King City recently obtained convictions on six of these violators who had killed wild pigs at night with spears after trespassing on private property in southern Monterey County.

Azbill arrested the six men after an investigation of their activities from 3:00 a.m. until 7:30 a.m. The culprits used dogs to run down and hold the wild pigs; then they used a bayonet bolted to a length of pipe to kill the pigs, thus avoiding the noise of gunfire.

The six men were charged with taking wild pigs at night, night hunting in a restricted zone (east Monterey County) taking pigs with a non-authorized weapon (spear), illegal possession of wild pigs, and hunting trespass. After pleading guilty in Southern Justice Court, King City, Alford Lloyd Williamson, 27, of 3535 South H Street, Bakersfield, was fined $500 and one year's probation.

Robert Lee Moore, 33, of 1620 Mint Street, Bakersfield, was fined $625. Stanley Lee Boss, 21, of 5801 South Fairfax, Bakersfield, was fined $250. Keith Eugene Lawhorn, 20, Box 154, Bakersfield, was fined $250, and Leonard Dow Findley, 39, Rt. 3, Box 1180, Bakersfield was fined $250.

Commenting on his unusual case, Warden Azbill said "This spear killing has been going on for about two years.

You know us. We know you.

You know the Mechanics Bank.

For over 70 years we've been here in the East Bay contributing to the growth of our people and communities.

In that time we've helped thousands of families just like yours build new homes. Or improve the ones they own.

We've helped hundreds of new East Bay businesses get off the ground. And we've loaned money to many more to expand or get through hard times.

We've also continued to provide financial assistance in other areas. Like buying or leasing a new car. Helping establish one of our many Retirement Plans. Or organizing a Living Trust.

And right now, we're handling over 60,000 checking and savings accounts for people planning for their present and future needs. That's more than any of the other banks in our service area.

What does all this mean? It means that unlike almost any other bank, we at the Mechanics Bank devote everything we have to the East Bay. All our energy, all our services, and all our resources.

And because we do, we think we know you.

We know you want a full range of banking services. Without the "big bank" attitude that often accompanies them.

We know that when you have a question or problem you want to discuss it with someone right here, right now. Not an anonymous voice in another city.

Most important, we know that you're not very different from us. Your car breaks down just like ours. And your roof springs leaks, too. And when these things happen, you want a bank you can count on.

Whatever banking needs you may have, we think you'll find it refreshing to deal with people whose ideas, interests, and attitudes are closer to home.

The Mechanics Bank. You know us, we know you.

Gleason new proprietor of wine shop

ALBANY — Recalled Councilman Michael R. Gleason may be down, but not out of the action in Albany — as the new proprietor of what has been the Bynum Winery at 1580 Solano Ave.

Gleason and his partners May R. Bayley and William Easton are now working at the shop which they will call Solano Cellars, selling jug wines and unusual brands of beers, as soon as their beer and wine license is approved by the state.

The City Council voted last week to send a letter to the Alcoholic Beverage Commission expressing no objections to the issuance of the license, a formality required by the commission before conferring a license.

The shop will allow customers a taste of the various wines and brews for a nominal charge, and that is why the tavern-type license is required for what is actually a package wine and beer shop.

Gleason said he plans to operate the shop in the mornings and continue to teach pre-school in the afternoons.

Albany area church news

ALBANY CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Tonight the monthly Testimony Meeting will begin at 8 o'clock. Readings on a subject of current interest will be from the King James Version of the Bible and "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

Sunday at 11 a.m. the Bible Lesson Sermon on "Man" will be read. The Responsive Reading includes this verse from Isaiah: "Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee."

The Reading Room is open Tuesdays from 2 to 4 p.m. Church and Reading Room are at 1358 Marin Ave.

ST. ALBAN'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH

This morning the Rev. Warren Debenham, rector, will celebrate Holy Communion at 7 o'clock and again at 11:30. There will be a potluck supper at 6:30 in the evening, preceding the Third Lenten Study.

Father Debenham will lead the Lenten Study presentation of "Three Portraits of Jesus," drawing on the material in three gospels, Matthew, Mark and Luke. The study, during which childcare will be provided, will begin at 7:30 and conclude by 8:30 with Communion.

Father Debenham will be the preacher on March 5, the Fourth Sunday in Lent. He will preach at both services, at 8 o'clock and at 10 o'clock, and will also be the celebrant of Holy Communion. He will be assisted by the Rev. Francis Symons, deacon, and Nabeel Jacob, lay reader.

The Senior Choir, under the direction of Rita Dows, organist and choirmaster, will sing the offertory anthem, "Walter Reichele and George Coons will usher, and Shari Gray will be the greeter."

There will be a coffee hour in the parish hall following the 10 o'clock service. The adult study group will continue its study of the Ten Commandments, meeting with Father Debenham in the parish library at 9 o'clock. St. Alban's Episcopal Church is at 1501 Washington Ave.

UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday services will be held at 11 a.m. at the United Methodist Church 980 Stannard Ave.

The Rev. David Houston will give a short personal message which will be followed by communion. All are invited. The choir is under the direction of Sheila Scott and the organist is James Berling.

At 9:30 Sunday morning Nina Hazelton leads a Bible study and prayer group in the education unit of the church.

Each week Sunday School is available for children in pre-school and the early grades. This will parallel the 11 o'clock Church service. Children will join the adults in the sanctuary during the first part of the service and then go to their classes.

Nursery care will be provided for small children.

CHURCH WOMEN UNITED

Friday is the "World Day of Prayer," a day of prayer for Church Women United of the Albany-Berkeley area announced today.

There will be services on 140 countries and 33 islands with the theme, "Community Spirit in Modern Living." Berkeley-Albany's celebration will be at All Souls Church, Cedar and Spruce streets from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

Church Women United "invites all women to attend this service, written this year by the women of Canada. The Rev. La Finneo will celebrate Holy Communion at the close of the service, assisted by Rev. Peter Haynes.

Chairman for the day, Elizabeth Dickey, said, "Prayers and offerings can make a world of difference to the hungry, to children and the poor of the world," Mrs. Dickey said.

First Baptist Church, "The Plagues," a series of four in a series of the plagues on the life of Moses will be presented by Larry Campbell.

Sunday's 11 a.m. service, The Chancel will be under the direction of Mrs. LaVaughn with Mrs. Deborah serving as Organist. Children will be cared in the nursery.

Miss Vicki Clark, Staff Woman at Berkeley for the Crusade for Christ, will be the speaker at the 4 p.m. service. The theme will be "Witnessing." It is part of the special series on Evangelism. There will be time for questions and discussion at this meeting.

Sunday School classes for all ages will meet from 9:30 to 10:45 a.m. Visitation is always most welcome.

AARP taping School experiment for handicapped

ALBANY — A program to aid visually impaired and blind persons has been started by Albany Chapter 2618, American Association of Retired Persons. "Modern Maturity," the bi-monthly AARP magazine, will be cassette-recorded and these cassettes will be loaned to interested persons.

Persons who are unable to read in print are invited to avail themselves of a cassette-recorded edition to be played on a commercial cassette machine or on a machine provided to the handicapped by the Library of Congress.

Those wanting to receive their first cassette may contact Shirley MacKellar, project chairman, at 526-3251. For information concerning this program, call Isabelle Betten, 526-8675, Albany Chapter 2618 president.

By NORMAN COLBY

ALBANY — A three-year, $60,000 project will provide Albany and Martinez public schools with a head start in meeting tough federal requirements for educating handicapped children.

The project will involve teachers' aides who are themselves handicapped, special training for regular teachers and development of instructional materials.

Initially, a small number of physically handicapped children will be served in the Albany Children's Center and the Parent Pre-School, both in Albany Village, and a kindergarten classroom at Albany's Cornell School.

Project Director Nick Rayder will supervise the main activities in Albany schools and smaller efforts in the Martinez schools.

The project will help the local school districts gear up for the massive effort required of all school districts in the nation to eventually provide a free, public education for all handicapped children ages 3 to 21, including "mainstreaming" into the regular classrooms. Where the districts cannot do it, they must provide for the required education elsewhere.

The local project's emphasis is upon getting started, trying various methods and gaining the ability to educate severely handicapped children in their own home towns instead of sending them to larger school districts far from home.

The federal funds have been awarded to the Far West Laboratory for Educational Research and Development and are based upon Rayder's proposals as a member of the laboratory staff.

The Albany school board recently approved the district's participation in the project. Advertisements are being made to obtain the handicapped teacher aides from the local populations, with pay $3.50 per hour, 30 hours per week.

The federal law, PL 94-142, requires that all regular school districts must provide free education to all physically and mentally handicapped youngsters, 3 to 21 years old, by 1980. And there are state laws designed to implement this.

"The intent of the local project is to encourage the education of handicapped children within the normal environment of their own home, towns and schools," said Richard Rosenquist, Albany schools' assistant superintendent.

This may mean that a deaf or partially blind youngster might be able to spend at least part of his or her school day in familiar surroundings, with the rest of the time spent where specialized help is more readily available, Rosenquist said.

As the project moves along, first-graders and children with greater disabilities may be involved. The money is being provided by the U.S. Bureau of Education for the Handicapped, allotting about $20,000 per year.

Rayder has a Ph.D. degree from the University of Northern Colorado and a masters degree from Colorado State University. He is assisted by Suzanne Hering.

New art course for children announced

ALBANY — The Albany Park & Recreation Department announced today a continue art and drawing class to be held at Memorial Park Clubhouse on Tuesday and extending through April 25. The eight week session for children 10 years of age through sixteen years old will be held from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m.

The purpose of this course will be to "use the artistic experience to expand and enhance the awareness of our environment and the self, and to provide the tools necessary for this process."

The classes will include: "Explorations in Art" an introduction to the variety of art materials. Included will be water color and acrylic painting, charcoal and pencil drawing, collage and constructions from discarded materials. Both group and individual projects will be encouraged.

Art experience students will learn fundamental drawing and painting techniques building toward working with acrylics on canvas board. Drawing from nature, will involve field trips throughout Albany, sketching points of interest, fundamentals of drawing including perspective will be stressed.

"Creating a Mural" class will find an appropriate wall in the community for their mural. Art fantasies, will include working with vivid imaginations, dreams and fantasies. The class will create vehicles for self-expression. The class fee is $4. Materials, are not included. The instructor is Gloria Trout a Bay Area artist and community art organizer, currently an intern at the Mexican Museum in San Francisco.

For further information and registration readers may contact the Albany Park and Recreation Department, 1000 San Pablo Ave., or call 644-8514.

First issued Postage stamps were first issued in the United States in 1947.
